PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

Welcome Back to Term 4

As I mentioned in my earlier email this week, it was great to return to school with our Junior Department on-site. Next week we will have the staggered return of students in Years 3 to 6. I've included the table below to assist parents to identify the days students in those year levels are to attend on-site.

From Tuesday 26th October all students will return to on-site learning.

On Return to School

When returning to school students in Grades 3 to 6 will be separated from the Juniors in the playground. The older students will be located in the back half of the school, whilst the Juniors will be located in the front part of the playground. This strategy has been trialled successfully this week and reflects one of the COVID safe strategies we have in place to protect us from transmitting the virus.

There will be a continued focus on hand hygiene, providing appropriate levels of ventilation in classrooms, cleaning during the day and although not mandated for children, face masks are highly recommended as a preventative measure against the virus.

Hats

Some students have struggled a little this week to locate their hat, which is required during this term. Students not wearing a hat at recess and lunch will be directed to sit under the shade sails for their protection. For those students still on remote learning it might be time to have a look for your hat in preparation for the return to school next week.

Hats can be purchased on QKR and students can collect them from the office or alternatively they can be purchased from Noone Uniform Store, 21 Queen St, Bendigo.

Be an Attendance HERO HOME/HERE EVERYDAY READY FOR LEARNING ON TIME

Welcome back to Term 4! It has been a great week seeing Prep to Grade 2 walking through the school gate to start the school day. I know you will all be excited to be here 'in person' soon and that means settling back into the old 'getting ready for school' routine.

It will be critical for students to be at school on time and here every day. We can help our children by encouraging them to express how they feel about going back to school and validating their concerns. After validation comes strength: where we tell our kids it might be a bit hard at first but it's going to be OK and getting back to school for Term 4 will be a great way to reconnect with friends, teachers, and school.

Many parents have had conversations with their children about the importance of learning from home to keep them healthy and safe. Some children may now worry about the safety of returning to school.

To help your child feel safe, have a conversation with them explaining that:

- the decision to return to school is based on medical advice
- everyone at school is working hard to make sure that children are safe
- anyone who is unwell should stay at home
- the Government is keeping an eye on things – if it starts to be unsafe, decisions about what to do will be made
- reassure your child that it is normal to have mixed emotions such as excitement, relief, worry and anger
- discuss what they are looking forward to in Term 4 and what they are worrying about
- reinforce good hygiene practices.

WELLBEING

Back To School Stress

Welcome to Term 4. I hope you all enjoyed a great holiday break. With students heading back to onsite learning this week we can be sure that stress levels will be high – for students and parents. Our students have been mostly learning from home and while school might typically feel like a safety net to students, changes to school procedures and safety measures may leave some students feeling more stressed and anxious as they enter the building for the new Term. Back to school stress is a real thing every year, but I think we can all acknowledge it's a totally different scenario this Term for many of our students. To help kids deal with back-to-school stress, try to incorporate these strategies into their routine. In a collaborative effort with teachers, we can help students deal with the stress that comes with heading back to school.

Ease In

While we know it's best to ease into new things in general, it'll be even more important as students return to school after and during an ongoing global pandemic. We can't expect that they'll remember basic things about school, including getting their uniform and bags ready. Ease into expectations and consider spending even more time than usual focusing on going over expectations. Perhaps a written chart might help some kids to get organised.

Review New Procedures

Teachers will support students to review classroom procedures and expected behaviours, but there will be another element with students learning about the health and safety procedures. We have all had to adapt to new ways, especially regarding face masks etc. Expect that it may take some students longer to grasp these new norms and maintain lots of patience as you discuss these with your child. Try to make teaching these procedures fun! It will feel scary to some of our students, but as we continue to review procedures and normalise these expectations, they will become more comfortable and less stressed.

Build In Time for Talking and Sharing

Stress is complex. It affects every inch of our bodies, and students may not realise that some of the physical symptoms they're experiencing could be directly related to stress. Spend time teaching your child what stress is, how it affects them, and practical strategies for dealing with it. Even more than usual, children will benefit from having time to talk about how they're feeling – before, during and after the school day. Incorporate more opportunities for your child to talk about how they're feeling and reacting to school changes, current events, and life in general. Don't be afraid to share your own hard feelings during this time. Knowing that trusted adults have big feelings too will help normalise the experience and remove some of the isolation surrounding feelings they may be experiencing.

Keep Communication Lines Open

Communicating with your child's teacher and other staff is always important but keeping those lines of communication open during this time will be crucial. Let us know if you notice anything different about your child or if you are worried about them. We know home affects school and school affects home, and everything works better when we communicate as a team. Knowing that both parents and school staff are looking out for them will help kids feel cared for and more secure.

I also wanted to mention a local service, Bendigo Family and Financial Services (BFFS) that offers a holistic service, which aims to provide emergency relief and financial support services to those most at risk of financial exclusion and disadvantage.

The Emergency Relief Program offers:

- Food parcels
- Back to school assistance
- Material aid during times of crisis. For example, toiletries and essential packs for hospital visits.
- Assistance to negotiate with providers regarding overdue utility and phone bills.

BFFS provides free, confidential, and non-judgmental support. They are open from 9am-5pm Mon-Fri. Please call on 03 5441 5277 if you have any queries or visit our website: www.bendigofamilyandfinancialservices.org.au for further information.

If your business can in any way support our school by means of a donation in the form of a product or voucher, this would be greatly appreciated OR if you are able to purchase vouchers for goods and services from local businesses to donate to our auction, they will be warmly received.

All donations will be publicly acknowledged and we encourage you to take a look at our Silent Auction Facebook page to see how we have promoted auction items in the past.

Thank you for your support.

5/6 Learning Team

LOTE

Prep

Students learnt a few more Chinese words for class routines and enjoyed playing the copy me game as a student teacher. They also had great fun while playing the 'Who is 'it'?' game as a detective.

Grade One and Two

Students were introduced to a few fruits in Chinese and found out some interesting facts about constructing Chinese characters.

Grade Three to Six

Students learned to understand how names are given in Chinese culture and used their cultural knowledge to give themselves a special and meaningful Chinese name. For example, Pax named himself as 常智忠, which means always intelligent, honest and loyal. Mietta named herself 海阳敏 and she wants to be open minded as broad as the ocean, as warm as the sun, and smart.

Yimin Chen - LOTE Coordinator

ART

The Preps and the Juniors loved being back in Art this week. All the Grade 3/4 and Grade 5/6 classes will attend an onsite Art lesson next week. Thanks to students and parents from the Middle and Senior Department who have kept up their participation in the online Art lessons. It is very important to give students a break from screen time to be creative with their hands. Preps had a great time in Art this week painting their pets in preparation for some lessons on pet safety.
